Mr. Brady Eames
478 E. 700 N.-Apt. #2
Logan, UT 84321

Dear Mr. Eames:

This is in response to your U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request (GSA-2015-000613), submitted on March 11, 2016 in which you requested:

“[w]ith respect to the printing polices of the GSA and its relationship with the Government Publishing Office (GPO), I request the following records: (1) Documents of the GSA which are not printed by the GPO on paper, microfiche or CD-ROM and are not committed to the custody of the Superintendent of Documents (SOD) and, therefore, are not distributed to and not housed and not made accessible to me for free in the Federal Regional Depository Library of Utah (FRDL-UT). (2) Documents of the GSA printed on paper, microfiche and CD-ROM by other entities other than the GPO which are not committed to the custody of the SOD and, therefore, are not distributed to and not housed and not made accessible to me for free in the FRDL-UT. (3) Digitized documents of the GSA which are not committed to the custody of the SOD and, therefore, are not electronically distributed to and not electronically accessible to me for free at the FDsys on a desktop or laptop computer in the FRDL-UT. Format of Records Sought: electronic, but NOT internet website-page addresses, or paper if not available electronically.”

In response to your request, GSA uses GPO to publish all hard copy documents and all other documents that GSA makes available to the public are posted electronically on a variety of websites such as:

- Gsa.gov is the General Services Administration's public facing website allowing the public access to an array of GSA related information.
- Vote.gov allows the American Public to register to vote on line.
- Api.data.gov is a free Application Programming Interface (API) management service which aims to make it easier for agencies to release and manage APIs.
- Challenge.gov is a repository of technical, scientific, ideation, and creative challenge competitions where the U.S. government seeks innovative solutions from the public.
- Data.gov is the hub for Federal agencies to maintain public listings of all of their datasets, enabling open access for citizens, entrepreneurs, researchers and others.
- DigitalGov.gov is a platform to help agencies provide digital services and information for the public.
- U.S. Digital Registry is the authoritative inventory of official government social media and public-facing collaboration accounts, mobile websites and apps.
- The U.S. government's official web portal, USA.gov, and its Spanish counterpart, GobiernoUSA.gov and their social media sites.
